

SCHOOL OF
ADVANCED STUDY
UNIVERSITY
OF LONDON

Special Joined Call
Universität Innsbruck-SAS London Fellowship Programme

For academic staff of all research fields!

The School of Advanced Study at the University of London brings together eight internationally renowned research institutes to form the UK's national centre for the support of researchers and the promotion of research in the humanities.

The Fellowship supports the research and/or teaching stay of an academic staff member from the University of Innsbruck at the SAS for up to two weeks, either in spring or in autumn 2024. The Fellowship is open to all academic staff with active working contracts with the University of Innsbruck at the time of application and the time of the stay in all areas of research.

The financial contribution covered by the Fellowship will be provided by SAS in the form of reimbursement for travel and accommodation up to a maximum of 1300€ for a two-week period.
